Berin heads the firm's Immigration practice group and is a member of Labor & Employment groups. She has extensive experience in business immigration and employment matters.

She analyzes temporary work visa & greencard options available for a desired candidate or employee and advises on the process, timeline and cost involved. She also advises employers on I-9 compliance and other compliance topics particular to foreign workers, such as wage and hour, disciplinary measures, relocation concerns, and termination issues.

Berin explains to employers the impact of organizational changes upon foreign nationals and develops strategies to ensure continuous employment authorization through mergers, acquisitions, bankruptcies, and corporate restructurings. She assists entrepreneurs and foreign businesses start businesses and operations in the United States, and facilitates taking care of all business needs, such as writing the business plan, obtaining financing, understanding the tax implications of the business model, drafting and filing the appropriate corporate documents, locating and negotiating a lease for the business, and protecting intellectual property developed by the business. Berin was previously an attorney at Posternak Blankstein & Lund LLP.

Berin assists businesses with state and federal audits and as well as proactive, internal audits, including those for I-9 & E-Verify compliance, prevailing wage compliance, public access file maintenance, H-1B site visits, and greencard posting requirements. She prepares ex-patriate agreements and facilitates obtaining work permits from other countries.

Berin also has extensive experience in employment counseling and litigation. She has handled discrimination, harassment, and retaliation complaints and cases. She has developed and revised handbooks and policies and assisted in implementing and executing policies. She has drafted employment agreements and compensation agreements. Berin has drafted and litigated all issues related to non-competition, non-solicitation, trade secrets, and confidential information agreements. She has assisted in internal and governmental audits, particularly wage and hour audits involving exempt status, independent contractor status, overtime, deductions, tips, and minimum wage. She has litigated wage and hour complaints, including a class action.

Berin has strategized with employers about issues related to leaves of absence, disabilities, workers compensation, and reasonable accommodations. She has handled disciplinary issues, terminations and reductions-in-force, and negotiated and drafted severance agreements.
