Ashley began her legal career at ArentFox Schiff as a summer associate. She was previously a student attorney at The George Washington Small Business & Community Economic Development Clinic, where she advised small businesses and nonprofit organizations on a variety of matters involving corporate and real estate law, including organizational filings, tax filings, and local licensing requirements.

While in law school, Ashley served on the Executive Board of the Business and Finance Law Review and as a Law Clerk at a Fortune 100 financial services company.

Life Beyond the Law
